Condemuntions. -Before Judge Blatchford. Eight gold watches, eleven gold chains and a mantity of gold rings, pins and other articles of swelry seized at the store of Gustav Westphal, 27 Bowery, some time since as sinuggled goods from the steamer Westphaia, were condemned in the United states District Court, before Judge Blatch-ford, yesterday morning, no claimant appearing. Before Judge Blatchford. Wilkinson vs. Pomeroy.—This was an action brought by plaintiff, Sadie C. Wilkinson, against defendant (Brick Pomeroy) for breach of promise of ndant (Brick Pomeroy) for breach of promise of marriage, for which $20,000 damages are claimed. ts in this case, so far as the allegations of the plaintiff and the points of defence were relied upon, have already been fully reported in the Herald. Some extra interest was given to this case from the engagement of Benjamin F. Butler, of Massachusetts, who lemporarily withdrew himself from the cares of legislation to appear and plead the case of the fair plaintiff. The case yeaverday came up on a motion submitted by plaintiff's counsel to strike out defendant's pleas as impertment, scandalous and unjust, and calculated to do the plaintiff more wrong than the original injury. These pleas were that the defendant never made a promise of marriage or solicated blaintiff in marriage or made court to her with that view, and that she was unchaste in morals and of ungovernable temper. These pleas, counsel contended, so far as morals and temper were concerned, were not bars to the action and could only be taken into consideration in mitigation of damages. laintiff and the points of defence were relied upon, mitigation of damages. Mr. Arnold followed for the defendant and ad mr. Arboid followed for the derendant and ad-dressed the Court in support of the pleas, contend-ing for the truthfollows and legality of the pleas that there was no promise given, that plaintiff was not in a position to contract a legal marriage, she being, at the time when the alleged promise was given, herself a married woman and incapable of forming a marriage contract. The Court took the papers and reserved decision.

Convicted of Smoggling Claure. John Talbot, charged with smuggling cigars into this port, was yesterday found guilty by a jury.

SUPREME COURT-TRIAL TERM-PART I. Paying the Penalty of a Rickety Pier. John Clancy vs. George C. Byrne, -In 1865 the driver of a truck belonging to the plaintiff, having discharged a load on pier 34 North River, was driv-ing from the pier, when one of his horses fell through the pier and was killed. Suit was brought for $500 damages. A verdict was given for the full amount claimed, and thus ends a suit which has been a long kime in litigation and twice tried.

SUPREME COURT-TRUL TERM-PART 2. Bankruptey in England as Affecting In debtedness Here. Before Judge Brady.

Chamberlin et al. vs. Lindsay et al.-The plaintiffs are partners in Manchester, England, and the defendants partners in this city, with a branch house in Manchester. In August and September, 1869, the defendants accepted drafts for £2,532 5s. 10d., made by the plaintiffs. The suit was for payment of these drafts, with interest, Defendants set up in their answer that under the English bankruptcy acts they went into bankruptcy with a compromise and to pay fifty per cent of their indebtedness. It was claimed for the plaintiff that a bankruptcy discharge granted in England does not affect American oreditors. This was the gist of the case, though the lawyers managed to occupy two days in learned discussions of the complications of the laws of bankruptcy as between England and the United States. A vertice was given for the plaintiffs for $14,207.78 in gold, being the whole amount claimed. by the plaintiffs. The suit was for payment of

Seeking Damages from a City Rullroad Com-

Julia Quinlan vs. Sixth Avenue Railroad Com-pany.—The plaintiff, in 1863, got on to one of the refendants' cars at the corner of Fifty-ninth street defendants' cars at the corner of Fifty-finith street a runaway car rin into the car, and the plaintif, in trying to get away was, as she claims, seriously injured. The defence was that the accident was one that could not have been foreseen or avoided, and that all the conditions required for the safe transportation of passengers were fulfilled. The strongest point on behalf of the plaintiff was the contract of the company to carry passengers in safety. Case still on.

COURT OF COMMON PLEAS-CIRCUIT-PART 2. Suit Against the City for Damages.

James Costello vs. The Mayor, &c.—On the evening of March 17, 1865, plaintiff and a friend were passthrough Attorney, street, on their way home when he fell into an unprotected excavation on the sidewalk in front of some new building s in course of erection, sustaining a dislocation of the shoulder and other injuries, claimed to be of a permanent enfracter. He brought suit for $5,000 damages, it was claimed on his behalf that it was the duty of the city to keep the sidewalks in safe condition. The defence was that the excavation was within the boundaries of private property, and did not encroach on the sidewalk; that if it did so encroach the city was not liable, because no notice had been given of its existence, either director constructive, and in either case that the accident might have been avoided by the exercise of due care on the part of the plantiff. The case was given to the jury, who, after being out some time, rendered a verdict for the city.

THE GRAY MYSTERY.

Discharge of Green and Monaghan-The Sev

ers To Be Scarched.
Although every effort has been put forth by the friends of Michael Gray and the police under Captain Leary, of the Twenty-first precinct, to discover some trace of his present whereabouts, either dead or alive, they have been so far unsuccessful. Yesnsuspicion of having murdered him, were again brought up before Justice Coulter, at the Yorkville Police Court. A man named Brannigan, who is a fellow workman of Monaghan, stated to the magistrate that Monahan suid he would have nothing to say about Gray's disappearance until he was brought lace to lace with Green, and he would then tell all he knew about it. When Gray's brother first spoke to him concerning the matter he admitted having gone with the missing man as far as Twenty-third street, where he parted with him; but he now says that he remembers nothing of what took place on the night of the disappearance. There being no evidence accusing the prisoners of even complicity in the supposed death of Gray, Justice Coulter said he thought of their rights as citizens in holding them any longer. It was certainly the strangest case he had ever heard of, he said, and though suspicion rested heavily upon the prisoners, he would not be justified, without some kind of evidence, in detaining them any longer. He therefore ordered their discharge, and they left. Discretionary power has been given Capitain Leary by the authorities to search the sewers along first avenue for the missing man, a supposition being entertained that in some one of them lies his body. They will accordancy be examined, probably to-day. The police are confident of finding the body either in the sewers or in the East River, but most probably in the latter place. last seen in Gray's company and who were arrested ATTEMPTED MURDER

Conway saw Michael Walsh, of 144 East Fortieta street, in the saloon, and going up to him he called him some hard name. Walsh struck him when Cooley and Conway both assaulted him. Walsh tried to get away and succeeded in reaching the door, when Cooley sent a ball whizzing past his ear and through the glass door into the street. The police were instantly on the ground and Cooley and those with him were arrested. Yesterday they were arralgaed at the Yorkville Police Court, where Conway and Cooley were held to anwer, and the others were discharged. Assault on an Officer by a Car Pickpocket. Nearly every night, just as the Circus or Academy of Music is dismissing its patrons, gangs or pick-pockets jump on the Third avenue cars going up and down town. On Monday night, about half-pas eleven o'clock, Officer McVay, of the Eighteenth precinct, was standing on the corner of Fourteenth street, and he saw one of these gangs take possession of the front and rear platforms of a car going up. He went towards the car and was watching the operators intently, when one of them suddenly raised his foot and kicked him in the mouth, splitting his upper up, at the same time with a profane expression exclaiming, "What are you looking at?" Officer McVav pulled out his revolver and fred. The thieves jumped from the car and ran in all directions. The man who assaulted McVay, and whose name is James McConnell, was arrested by Officer Reed, on the corner of Second avenue and Fourteenth street. The rest of the gang—which is known as Mundy's gang—escaped. McConnell was arranged before Judge Scott, at Essex Market, yesterday, and held under $1,000 bail.

As he did this Mr. Thomas McLanghtin immediately interfered with Leavy and struck him on the head with a paving stone, while Mrs. Thomas McLanghtin, belabored him with a big stick. Officer Leavy made his appearance in Essex Market yesterday with als head bound up, bringing with him stellanghlin, his wife and three small children. In the matter of the Nicolson Pavement Company vs. the City of Elizabeth, so much of the decree as related to the production of the books of defendants was modified, and the accounts were referred to was induced, and the accounts were related to Mr.W. T. McGee, as master. Gathering from conver-sation between counsel as to this question of in-fringement of patent right by the city of Elizabeth, the end is not yet. An Interesting Case to Cork Merchants. In the United States Circuit Court, now sitting in Trenton, before Judges McKennon and Nixon, an interesting case to cork merchants is being tried. It day. It is a claim of $3,500 against the government arising in the following way:—C. McKnight Smith is a collector at Perth Amboy, and insisted that cork, imported by William King from Spain, was a manufactured article. The duty was paid, $3,500, under protest, and the suit is to recover. It is being tried as a matter of principle, and the decision will affect other importations of cork. In the forests of Spain the cork is subjected to a certain process to fit it for packing, and the edges are also cut, the parings having to be taken in equal proportions by the purchasers of the larger layers of cork. It is insisted by the government that the process in Spain is a manufacturing one, and renders the cork hable to duty, while the cork merchant, by counsel, contends that the process is only one which is necessary to enable the dealers to pack the cork for transportation and shipment. arising in the following way: -C. McKnight Smith is
